Christine Achilles Retires from Assabet Valley

Area. The newly renovated Assabet Valley cafeteria lost just a bit of its luster, as one smiling face will be missing from now on. Chrissie Achilles officially finished 35 years on Friday, December 18th, and is hanging up her apron and putting down the peanut butter spreader. Although she will be honored in June at an annual All-Staff Retirees Celebration, she was delighted when so many staff members popped into the cafeteria to wish her well and made a bit of a fuss over her! Chrissie has been a fixture at Assabet Valley, and her warm smile, infectious laugh, and work ethic will be missed by all! To commemorate her special last day, Mark Hollick, Assabet's Principal, drove her home on Friday in the Assabet Valley minibus, complete with her balloons. The cafeteria staff rode along to keep her celebration going as long as possible.
