Matt Lefebvre, Music Director

CONCERT PROGRAM

About our Guest Conductor:

Dr. Eric Melley is the Director of Instrumental Activities at Providence College, where he directs the Symphonic Winds and Jazz Ensemble, teaches courses in music education and jazz history, and oversees all administrative aspects of the instrumental music program.

Dr. Melley holds music degrees from the University of Massachusetts and Louisiana State University, and received his Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Conducting from Arizona State University. Melley's career has included experiences conducting and teaching wind bands at every level, from beginning bands through secondary, and post-secondary ensembles, as well as adult professional, community, and military bands. He has directed performances and given lectures and masterclasses throughout North America and Europe.

Dr. Melley holds professional affiliations with the College Band Directors National Association, National Association for Music Education, and the National Band Association and remains active as a freelance trumpet performer. Melley has received honorary induction into Pi Kappa Lambda and Kappa Kappa Psi and resides in Rhode Island with his wife, Dina, and their son, William.

The InterBoro Community Band is a volunteer ensemble that performs regularly in the Central Massachusetts area. We are a member of The Association of Concert Bands (ACB) and play a wide variety of band literature ranging from traditional classic concert band music to more contemporary and popular band arrangements.

Membership is open to adults and older student musicians who can perform at a High School level. Younger players may be admitted upon audition.

We rehearse from 7:30 to 8:45 PM on Monday evenings from September until June at Westborough High School, Westborough, MA.
